Silicon Valley Education Foundation 10th Year Anniversary College Day

A Week Long Educational Workshop for Aspiring College Bound Students

SAN JOSE, Calif. -- Silicon Valley Education Foundation (SVEF) will be hosting the tenth annual College Day educational workshop from October 19-23, 2020. The five day workshop will feature over forty unique one hour sessions.

College Day is a community-driven, county-wide celebration that shows students from diverse backgrounds that going to college is possible. Now in its 10th year anniversary, under Silicon Valley Education Foundation's (SVEF) and Santa Clara County Office of Education leadership and our partners, SVEF will virtually host a week-worth of workshops during the week of October 19-23, 2020 to promote college and career readiness for elementary, middle, and high school students. Each workshop day will include up to six courses to choose from and all courses are open to the public.

The event is created with much passion and excitement. This workshop gives a clear advantage to attendees. It provides direction to students and fosters the thinking that is needed to succeed in life. Absorb as much information as possible and keep the theme of the week in mind...be a "Super Hero" and reach for the stars because you can be as extraordinary as you can imagine!! - Denise Williams, Chief Programs Officer, SVEF

Additional information or to register for one of the many workshops can be found at www.svefoundation.org/collegeday/.
